EXAMPLE - filled sample. Your copy is blank and fillable.

WEEKLY FOCUS

One page runs your whole week. Keep it short on purpose.

Week of: Oct 26

MY #1 THING THIS WEEK

Get the Henderson report out the door

TOP 3 PRIORITIES

- [ ] Finish the Henderson report draft
- [ ] Book the dentist (been putting it off)
- [ ] Plan Mom's birthday dinner

FIXED TIMES

when	what
Tue 10:00	Team standup
Wed 15:30	Call with accountant
Thu 18:00	Gym with Alex
Fri 09:00	Car service
Sat 11:00	Farmers market

PARK IT FOR NOW

- Reorganize the garage
- Research a new laptop
- Paint the spare room

THIS WEEK, IN ANY ORDER

- [x] Reply to the landlord's email
- [ ] Buy a birthday card
- [ ] Submit expense receipts
- [x] Water the plants
- [ ] Charge camera batteries

MY NEXT ACTIONS - first small steps I will actually take

Open the report doc and fix the charts in section 2

Make the dentist call at lunch - number is in my phone

Text Alex to confirm Thursday gym

EXAMPLE - filled sample. Your copy is blank and fillable.

RESTART - PICK UP WHERE YOU ARE

Missed days are not homework. This page is designed to take about 10 minutes. Work top to bottom and tick each step off.

STEP 1 - DON'T BACKFILL

Turn past the missed days. Blank pages are not a score, and you owe this planner nothing. You are not behind - you are starting from today.

☑ Done - I am starting from today.

STEP 2 - COLLECT WHAT'S STILL HANGING AROUND

From your head, your inbox, your last list - just collect it here. Do not judge it yet. (A full Brain Dump page is on p.4.)

Henderson report - due Friday

Dentist - tooth still aches

Landlord's email, unanswered for a week

Garage is chaos again

STEP 3 - TRIAGE: SORT, DON'T SOLVE

STILL MATTERS	LET IT GO (FOR NOW)
Henderson report	Garage sort-out (not this month)
Dentist appointment	Repaint the spare room
Landlord's email	Sort old photos

Crossing something out on the right is a decision, not a failure.

STEP 4 - TODAY'S ONE THING

If today only gets one thing, it is this:

Open the Henderson report and finish the charts in section 2

STEP 5 - SET YOUR NEXT CHECK-IN TRIGGER

I will open this planner again:

Sunday, after breakfast, at the kitchen table - coffee first e.g. "Sunday, after breakfast, at the kitchen table - coffee first." A when-and-where cue works better than a promise to "do better".

☑ I will cut out the Restart Card (p.9) and keep it where I will see it.