How to use this planner

Move around — the navigation map

Pages 3 to 10 carry the same tab bar at the top. Tap a tab — or a line below — to jump.

Cover — Front page and contents	1
Month overview — Twelve months on one page	3
Week at a glance — Your week, day by day	4
Priorities — The few things that matter most this week	5
Week review — Look back before you plan ahead	6
Habit tracker — One month of daily check-offs	7
Brain dump — Empty your head onto the page	8
Task inbox — Catch tasks, then sort them	9
Notes — Spare lined pages for anything else	10

Fill it in

Boxes, lines and checkboxes on the planner pages are form fields. Type in any PDF reader that supports forms (for example Adobe Acrobat Reader), then save the file — what you typed stays in the file when you reopen it. Or print a page blank and write on it by hand. Both ways work on every page.

Print it

Print at 100% / Actual size. The links are a screen-only feature: they do not print, and a printed page looks like an ordinary planner page. Print a single page whenever you need a fresh one — every page works on its own.

Undated, on purpose

No year is printed anywhere in this planner. Fill in the months and dates yourself, start in any week of any year, and reuse the file for as long as you like.

Month overview

One box per month. Write the month, then the dates and plans that matter.

One row per habit: write the habit on the left, then tick each day you do it.

Brain dump

Everything on your mind goes here first. Sort it later on the Task inbox page.

Task inbox

Catch each task as it arrives, then decide: today, or this week.
