Weekly Return Pack

1 List the tasks

Use Brain Dump (p.4), then Dump & Sort (p.5).

2 Choose what belongs this week

Weekly Reset (p.3) sorts tasks into next week, later and let go.

3 Place tasks in your week

My Week (p.2) leaves space for one task per day.

4 Park the rest

Parking Lot (p.6) holds tasks not scheduled this week. Notes are on pp.7–8.

Use only the pages you need. Print a fresh page and restart whenever you choose.

Light means low pressure and low burden in use; it does not mean fewer pages.

This is a self-management tool, not medical advice, and it cannot replace professional help.

Included: English and Traditional Chinese, each in A4 and US Letter. These are ordinary printable PDFs for handwriting, not fillable forms. Print the matching paper size at 100% / actual size.

My Week

Choose one task per day. Leave unused space blank.

This week's small win: _____

Weekly Reset

List tasks, choose what stays, and leave the rest for later.

Step 1 — Dump: everything still circling

Step 2 — Sort it

Do next week	Later	Let go
Small, urgent, or blocking something else.	Real, but not this week.	Saying no on paper counts.

Step 3 — Next week's 3

3

Missed a week? No catching up. Just do this page and the week restarts.

Brain Dump

Get it ALL out of your head. No sorting, no judging — sorting lives on the next page.

Dump & Sort

Take the last Brain Dump and sort it into three piles. Every item lands somewhere — that's the whole job.

Do now

Small, urgent, or blocking something else.

Later

Real, but not this week.

Let go

Saying no on paper counts.

Parking Lot

Tasks not scheduled this week wait here. Write a date to review each one.
